“In a video game, a player is always represented by a 2D image, while in actual play and in reality a player is a 3D object,” states Roland Grombacher, Managing Director of EA SPORTS FIFA. “With “HyperMotion” technology, we can give players a more realistic and enhanced representation of their in-game actions. Players now act like they do in the real game and the skill of the player is represented even more realistically on the pitch.” The in-depth gameplay of “HyperMotion” is enabled by accurate player movement, the best AI in the industry and improved ball physics and player animations, based on the greatest number of games and online matches of real players in FIFA. First-person player controls enable an increased skill level with ball control and situations, the way players actually play in real life. Using “HyperMotion” technology, the game delivers the best and most realistic player movements in video games. FIFA 22 challenges players to experience the genuine challenges of high-intensity football, such as diving, sweeper off-sides and more, as they work together to compete for the ultimate ball possession and ball time. As a player, you’ll have control over the ball’s flight pattern and you’ll have to work with your teammates to achieve the ultimate team goal: winning a match. The new control system in FIFA 22 means players can be positioned in almost every area of the pitch. Precision dribbling and new ball-control elements allow players to take on defenders one-on-one with ease. Additionally, with the new “Sweeper Offside” rule, you and your teammates will have more options to create the perfect goal-scoring opportunity. These innovations allow you to start games from a deeper position to retain possession of the ball and enable more attacking options. In addition to the new ball and its control systems, FIFA 22 introduces a number of innovations that allow you to demonstrate your skills as a true soccer player. These new AI tactics will allow you to gain on-pitch intelligence and to use it to your advantage to progress through the game. FIFA 22 also introduces the new Challenge Coaching Experience, a career feature that puts the coach and his team into a club, as you progress through youth teams, to the first team and ultimately to the first XI. The Challenge Coaching Experience provides a unique level of progression that

What's new in Fifa 22:

- HyperMotion Technology (FUT)- FIFA 22 harnesses 22 of the world's leading pro players' biometric data with advanced motion-capture sensors to bring HyperMotion Technology to FIFA. In a series of on-field tests conducted in a FIFA training centre in Turin, Italy with FIFA-22 Winger Alessandro Diamanti, two lightweight electronic motion capture suits were used to collect the biomechanical data from 22 players across different positions while they were wearing actual team kit during a full-on high-intensity match played with real team tactics, skill, and reaction time.
- New Attacking Revolution - Attack has been reinvented in FIFA 22. Forget long passes, dribbling is the name of the game, and defenders will need to adapt to the pace and speed of the new attack style. Explosive new attacks, new passes, and reactive defenders who push further forward ensure that there is never a dull moment in FIFA 22.
- Re-invented Online - FIFA's most loved attributes return in a wildly revamped version of the FIFA Ultimate Team features, including all-new Gameweek formations, customisation tools, and more.
- New Features - The New Pitch Creator lets you design the pitch you dream of, while new Venues and Player Movements bring a level of authenticity and experience to FIFA 22.
- Dynamic Interaction Scoring - Watch your players run, tackle, catch and shoot all with a new level of authenticity and interaction. New attributes such as Cup Goals, Lying Kits, and Attacking Boost provide new ways to score goals. As opponents get closer to you, they tighten their defence and react more aggressively to your attempts to open them up, creating a more tactical player experience. Watch the video below for some of the new features in FIFA 22.
- The Atmosphere is Amped Up - With a new live soundtrack and Live Stream in-match, the atmosphere is elevated throughout the match.
